Vinci 1 01.12.2020 I wish to share my experience with all of you, that this great program, it's not only useful but also very beautiful. The interface is as simple as it can get, and the functionality is simply amazing. Thanks for your website. Roland Cloud TB-303. . Name: Code: Strong GDITime: Database: All the time I used to look on the internet for some information about the topic of interest, but I at the moment were unable to get the desired information. That is why I am glad I came across your webpage. Regards,Q: how to run GCP Pub/Sub producer/consumer experiment in local I use pyspark to send/receive messages from pub/sub. However, it seems that the message is sent/received in the pub/sub on google compute engine. I would like to run the experiment in my local computer. Is there a way to do this? Thanks The topic of the message is created in GCP pub/sub's web interface, it is a temporary topic. I run this in pyspark: import paho.mqtt.client as mqtt import time import sys from pyspark.sql.functions import * from pyspark.sql import SparkSession import datetime def publish_message(msg): mqttc.publish(client,topic, "random message %s" % datetime.datetime.now()) spark = SparkSession _builder _appName("Pub/Sub Consumer Manual") _config("spark.sql.warehouse.dir", "gs://data/sparkwarehouse/") _getOrCreate() message = str(time.time()) topic = "topic/test_topic" line = message.split(".") print(line[0],line[1]) conn = mqtt.Client() conn.username_pw_set(username,password) conn.connect(server_address) with open('sock.p') as sock: mqttc =
